The Resurrection and The Crucifix in Catholic Art

The Season of Easter, also known as Paschal tide, or Eastertide is a time of feast and celebrate the joy of the Resurrection. With that being said, in Catholic liturgical art, the central symbol is the scene of Christ crucified. Their had been an attempt in the latter half of the 20th century, in particular in the late 60's until the middle 90's to have the resurrected body of Jesus on the cross. This cross to many priests became known as the Resurrecifix. In some Churches build in this era it is even difficult to find a Crucifix in the Church. If the Resurrection is one of the principal mysteries of our faith, why do we not see it depicted more often? In my opinion one of the reasons Catholicism has tended to focus on the Crucifixion scene is because it represents the love of God for humanity in such a powerful and heroic way. Jesus, the son of God, perfectly obedient to the will of His heavenly Father, gives everything for us. This is sacrificial love. With the great commandment of Jesus given to the Apostles at the Last Supper it makes sense that the Crucifix became our most prominent symbol. As recorded in the Gospel of John 15:12b-13 RSV our Lord uttered the following words: "This is my commandment, that you love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend's." Being like Christ finds it's ultimate fulfillment in the total gift of self that is sacrificial love, or servant love. Nevertheless the Resurrection of Jesus has affected how the crucifix is most often portrayed in Catholic liturgical art. The image below on the upper left gives us an idea of the full horror of the Crucifixion of Jesus, which is almost never seen in Catholic liturgical art, while the image on the lower left shows how the Resurrection of Jesus influences the portrayal of Jesus on the cross. The contrast is stunning. The image on the right shows an ancient depiction of the crucifix. The plants and foliage shows that the cross brings life. This image is also influenced by the Resurrection of Jesus. The Resurrection of Jesus makes all the difference.

GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

"Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, 'Peace be with you.'" This greeting from the resurrected Christ must have been a profound one for the disciples. They were living behind locked doors "for fear of the Jews," which really meant for fear of their own lives. They had seen what happened to Jesus and didn't want to face the same fate. Imagine the paralysis of this fear, keeping them locked inside a prison of their own making. But even the walls and the locks could not keep Jesus out! He came "although the doors were locked" and brought them a message of peace. And then their fear turned to gladness for they "rejoiced when they saw the Lord."

This transformation from sadness to joy, from fear to peace was not just a gift for these first disciples. It is a gift for all of the followers of the Lord, ourselves included! When we are afraid of what might happen in our lives, where we are trapped or paralyzed by the burdens of our own habitual sins, Jesus wants to step in and offer us peace. This is what we celebrate today on this feast of the mercy of Christ. His love and peace--the gift of his mercy--is meant for all of us, weak, sinful, and scared though we may be.

And we who receive this great gift of mercy from the Lord are also called to be merciful to others. We are called to be peacemakers and to forgive others as we have been forgiven. Our celebration of Divine Mercy need not stop at the doors of our own hearts. We can seek ways to be ministers of God's mercy to others, reaching out with the love of God, bringing comfort and consolation to those who need it most.

WILL YOU PRAY FOR A PRIEST EACH DAY?

PRAYER SUGGESTION

O Lord, may You find shelter and rest gently within the heart of your priest. Make him, O Lord, a priest according to Your heart: meek, humble, zealous, so that all he does will be for Your honor and glory. Mold him into a man of prayer and labor, insensible to earthly things, and sensible only to Your love and to the graces of the Holy Spirit. Amen. (Fron Our Lady of the Rosary Library, Prospect, KY)
